

UK Radio Department Is 31 Years Old Today

By REX BAILEY
Wednesday Associate Editor

Broadcasting from the old Art Center on Euclid Avenue, the first radio program originating from UK was aired 31 years ago today.

On April 1, 1929, using the facilities of WHAS in Louisville, the University became then one of the few American educational institutions operating a radio station.

Using lines leased between Louisville and Lexington and only a minimum of equipment, WBKY has grown from this humble beginning to one of the top college stations in the country.

Cooperative arrangements with modifications between WHAS and WBKY have continued from that initial broadcast to the present.

In 1929, using the UK extension, WHAS broadcast UK College of Agriculture programs to farmers and housewives throughout Kentucky. Today WHAS airs the UK Roundtable on Friday nights.

In the early '30's interest in the UK outlet grew and became recognized as a worthwhile and important addition to the University. Improvements were made to bring the station up to date and more in line with good broadcasting practices.

In 1937 all the original equipment was replaced with modern apparatus, completely under University ownership.

By 1939 five other Kentucky radio stations were included in the University broadcasting plans carry many of WBKY's programs. They picked them up on the air directly from WHAS.

In 1939-40 the studios were moved to McVey Hall to occupy the quarters formerly used by the University Commons.

Not until 1944 did WBKY exist as it is today. This date could actually be used to mark the birth of the station since it then became an educational station operating on the FM frequency.

After becoming a noncommercial educational FM station, WBKY found it necessary to make some changes. A new transmitter as well as a new antenna system were needed.

Because of a lack of funds, a University graduate student, James Hisle, constructed a new transmitter, charging only for the cost of parts.

In 1946 WBKY completed its new antenna system and went on the air with an effective radiated power of 2,300 watts.

Also in 1946 the Department of Radio Arts was established and within two years a full major in the subject was offered.

A series of transcribed presentations to be sent to smaller stations of the state were developed in 1940 by the UK Radio Service. WBKY continued programming the Roundtable for WHAS which was attracting widespread attention.

Before World War II the Roundtable was produced live from UK, but since then the station has taped the discussion for WHAS.

Leonard Press, head of the Radio Arts Department, said the Roundtable has attempted to explain topical and controversial subjects by pitting men of different opinions against one another.

Panhellenic Meeting Convenes Here Today

Discussion of various problems of sororities will be the main business topic of the Southeastern Panhellenic Conference which will be held here today and Saturday.

Registration of approximately 40 delegates from 16 Southeastern colleges and universities will be from 2-5 p.m. and 7-9 p.m. today in the Fine Arts Building.

Mrs. George L. King, national Panhellenic conference area advisor, will give the main speech at the opening session at 8 p.m. tonight.

A reception will be held afterwards in the Music Lounge of the Fine Arts Building.

Saturday morning activities, beginning at 8:30 a.m., will include a general meeting and group meetings to discuss various facets of sorority organization. Each group will be led by a UK sorority member and a member of another UK sorority will participate.

The speakers and their topics are

Betty Pace, Alpha Xi Delta, "Membership Selection"; Jane Shewmaker, Kappa Alpha Theta, "Pledge Guidance"; Anne Armstrong, Kappa Kappa Gamma, "Scholarship"; and Alice Broadbent, Chi Omega, "Panhellenic Activities."

Delegates will be invited to attend coffees at 10 a.m. at the Kappa Delta and Delta Delta Delta houses following the first sessions.

After a second group of discussion meetings, the representatives will eat lunch at the various sorority houses on campus.

At the afternoon sessions beginning at 1:30 p.m., guests will be introduced and reports from the group discussions will be given. A bus tour of nearby horse farms is also planned for Saturday afternoon.

UK President Frank G. Dickey will be the main speaker at the banquet Saturday night. His topic will be "A Lamp in the Darkness." The banquet is open to all UK sorority members.

The UK Panhellenic Council has arranged blind dates for the representatives for Saturday night. They will attend the University of Illinois Glee Club concert and the jam session honoring the Glee Club which will be held afterwards in the SUB Ballroom.

Willie Jordan, cochairman of the conference, said, "The boys on campus have been very cooperative about having dates with these girls. We'll probably have a surplus of dates for them."

UK committees, under the direction of

Singing Illini Will Perform In UK Coliseum Tomorrow

The University of Illinois Men's Glee Club, directed by Harold A. Decker, will perform tomorrow at 8:15 p.m. in Memorial Coliseum.

The choral group is appearing as a part of the Central Kentucky Concert and Lecture Series and will be honored at a jam session featuring the House Rockers at the Student Union Building following the concert.

Founded in 1887, the "Singing Illini" is one of the oldest University of Illinois student organizations.

Of the entire 70-voice membership, only 15 men are currently enrolled as music majors.

In 1955, the club made an Eastern tour to New York and appeared on the Ed Sullivan Show.

Two years ago the "Singing Illini" were invited by the State Department to represent the U.S. in a choral festival at the Brussels World's Fair and at the International Festival of Youth Choruses held in Charleroi, Belgium.

They have also presented concerts at the University of Freiburg, Germany; the Amerika Haus in Munich, Germany; and the American Cathedral in Paris, France.

Last month the glee club appeared at the Illinois Lincoln Sesquicentennial banquet.

The glee club annually tours Illinois and the Midwest, presenting concerts at conventions and before community, civic, service, and school organizations.

Veteran Checks

Veterans should sign for their checks today, tomorrow, and Monday. Any veteran who signs after these dates will receive his check late, according to the Veterans' Office.

Man Lost Five Days Is Found Inside Shark

By GEORGE SMITH

This is the first day of April, a day for tricksters, jokers, and perpetrators of sea stories—tales such as the one from the East Indies of a man who lived five days in the belly of a shark.

This tale is authentic and is drawn from the chronicles of the Times of Indonesia, September 19, 1958. A copy of this paper is in the office of Dr. R. W. Barbour of the Zoology Department in the basement of the Funkhouser Building.

The article tells of a modern day Jonah, a fisherman named Bajueun from the island of Atjeh, who set out in his dinghy with a companion, to try his luck among the salty waves of the Indian Ocean.

Night brought with it a storm and the disappearance of Ba-

Jueun and his companion. Their fellow villagers thought them to be drowned.

Five days later, the huge carcass of an unidentified shark was found washed up on the beach.

Inside in a state of sheer exhaustion, but alive, was the fisherman Bajueun.

The news story, a republication of a story in the Peristiwa, the local daily in Kotaradja, capital of Atjeh, gave the following account.

"They (the villagers) were thunderstruck when upon opening the stomach of the shark, they found Bajueun still alive."

SU Board Candidates

WBKY Has Been Operating At UK For Past 31 Years

Then And Now

A pictorial view of the progress WBKY has made over the years.

He added that they are now experimenting to find what it can do best.

"It is a good informative way for men with authority and knowledge to explore ideas together," Press said.

In the past the Roundtable has featured such men as Eric Sevareid, news correspondent; John Sherman Cooper; Wilson Wyatt; and William Whyte, author of "Organization Man," who spoke at UK recently, will be heard on the Roundtable April 8.

In the planning stage now is a discussion on the proposed Kentucky Constitutional Convention.

Although WBKY has now the same basic equipment it had in 1946, it has been necessary to supplement its facilities as the need arises.

"Listeners have become more and more critical," Press stated.

He added that with FM any sound is not good enough for the listeners now. After a record has been played three or four times the listener can pick up the scratching sounds.

Among the many awards WBKY has won are the National Peabody Award and the Ohio State Institute Award. The Peabody Award was presented in 1942 for an outstanding program service on general diseases.

The Ohio State Institute Award was given for their documentary presentations.

The primary function of the station is to program WBKY and furnish stations in Kentucky and University departments with broadcasting and motion pictures service.

WBKY presently produces the anthropology class on television and is doing research for other departments of the University.

Graduates of the Radio Arts Department are scattered throughout the country. Jack McGeehan, first student manager of WBKY in 1935, is now manager of the CBS Theatre in New York.

He recently accompanied Ed Sullivan when the television performer went to Europe to video tape his show.

These deluded Florida-conscious UK students who sprint along behind their sunglasses like spring was here or something don't realize that it will surely snow again. However, you in the botanical gardens probably haven't even noticed it. LIFE magazine doesn't. It's more interested in the realm of reality than this romantic hogwash that constitutes the backwash of winter. LIFE is penetrating and perceptive. It doesn't wear rose-colored sunglasses.

For instance, there's nothing more real than the story about the "Cat Girl," a stripper on the famous New Orleans strip, Bourbon Street, who was pulled in for pulling off too much. People protested because teenagers were enticed to watch the show on their way to early Mass.

Perfidy In The Pentagon

Meanwhile, back at the Pentagon, the Air Force had just discovered that the United States had unknowingly lost a war with Grand Fenwick. "The Mouse That Roared," that titillating travesty of American diplomacy and military leadership, seems justified after reading this article on interservice rivalry. The Army hates the Navy hates the Air Force, etc. A LIFE writer explores the "shameful strife" in the Pentagon and suggests some bold reforms that could halt the bad effects of the schism. He would even do away with the joint chiefs of staff and install one military chief of staff with a military council at his side to pamper him and taunt him with advice.

UK ROTC victims should be inspired from this atmosphere of acrid distrust and mutual cynicism and appreciate their relatively secure position. Because on the national scale it's a Bad Thing. They sink each other's weapons and fight over the Nike-Zeus anti-missile missiles and the Nike missile anti-Zeus missiles and the anti-Ike Nike missiles, ad infinitum. Even President Eisenhower, who knows more than "almost anybody" about national defense, can't decide what to do.

Ballots And Bullets

The new middle class in Colombia, South America, commands the third part of a six-part series this week. Colombia is a little country which started out like the United States, emanating from Spain and demanding Liberty and Order, but it didn't get as far with its democratic daydreams. Colombia was led by national liberator Simon Bolivar last century into a government which has continued in an artificial political balance between the Conservatives and Liberals. Neither party has ever trusted the other enough to take a chance on majority rule, and when one side wins with ballots, the other takes to bullets.

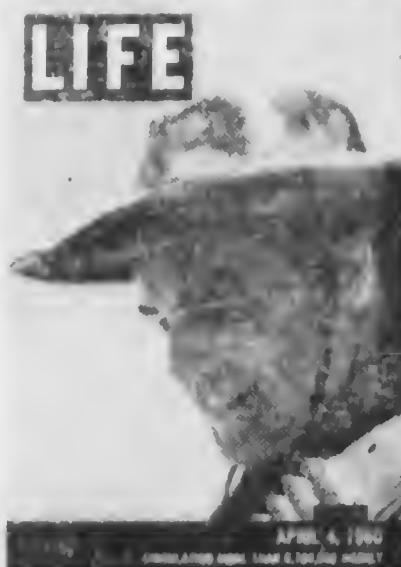

The country's hope for political stability includes women suffrage, and one picture comments on the unfamiliar registration formalities involved in voting. What they didn't know about registration didn't hurt them—deliver them from pre-classification!

A new part in the series in May: Greece, Embattled Democracy.

You always think about it, but you rarely see it. It really happened, though, in France—a classic hospital baby mix-up. After 10 years a blood test proved that two children have been with the wrong parents. The funny part of it is that one is a boy and one is a girl.

The best part of the whole magazine is the pictorial view of New York City with distorted lenses and emphasis on the new Time and Life Building.

That's LIFE—April 4, 1960 model.

Weekend 'Chuck-Full' As April Moves In

By ALICE AKIN
Kernel Society Editor

There will be a huge cocktail party this afternoon on Funkhouser's roof.

I guess that caught your attention, but now I must break down and tell you it's April Fool's Day. Wish I could pack this column with fantastic lies, but it's time to report the truth about the chuck-full weekend.

The truth is, dear readers, that Phi Kappa Tau is planning two festive days. The house has been decorated like Mt. Olympus for their Greek weekend.

A hot time is expected to come out of all this with a fire-god acting as master of ceremonies. Even a god and goddess is to be selected to reign over the event.

Saturday night the gods are feasting at a local restaurant and ambrosia is expected to be flowing freely.

A unique band has been imported from nearby Berea which will be strumming their lyres both nights. Sounds like a terrific weekend and I'm sure some juley myths will emerge from it.

It's the spring formal season again—corsages, decorations, favors, and all that jazz—and here to initiate it are the ADPI's and the Thetas.

The ADPI's are dancing tonight at the Tates Creek Country Club and the Thetas are swinging out to Lansdowne tomorrow night.

Tried my best to find out what the decorations were going to be, but the pledges wanted to surprise the sweet actives and it wouldn't be a surprise if they read it in the paper.

The Phi Sigs are celebrating the coming of spring with a jukebox patio party Saturday night. Everyone who is the least bit excited about the season is invited to attend.

Dress for the evening in bermudas, or if you belong to the younger set, sun suits.

It's a busy weekend for the sorority girls with this big Southeastern Panhellenic Conference here. The weekend is crammed with workshops, teas, and banquets.

Chances are the Panhellers will be attending the concert tomorrow night. And afterwards the SUB is sponsoring a jam session featuring the House Rockers. The Illinois Men's Glee Club will be there also, so it should be a glee-ful event.

If you're not in the concert mood you can go to Jewell Hall. What I mean to say is they're having a jam session, too, from 8-11 p.m.

I know everyone is excited about spring vacation and do you know that some greedy people are actually going to Florida again? Well, they say you can become addicted to the sinful sands of Lauderdale and evidently it's a fact.

Don't forget to catch the Tau Sigma Show either Monday or Tuesday night. They have lots of little tricks to show you and some of their dance contortions are unbelievable.

Whew! That's bound to be all for now. Oh, yet, today is Kay Kuster's dog's birthday! (Happy Birthday, John, and may your bones never decrease.)

AFROTC Holds Programs To Help Married Cadets

The AFROTC has scheduled a series of five programs to enable families of Air Force cadets to meet situations they will encounter when called to active duty.

The first session of the 1960 Family Orientation Program will begin Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Col. and Mrs. Boughton, at 21 The Lane. Topic of the first meeting will be "Service Life of the Air Force Wife."

Dr. James W. Gladden, professor of sociology, will lead a discussion following his lecture.

The four remaining programs will be held in the SUB Music Room.

The schedule includes, April 19, "Transportation," by Mrs. Nadine and Bill Brown; April 26, "Psychological Aspects of Air Force Life," by Dr. Perry Roadman; May 3, "Investments and Air Force Family Finances," by Dr. Ralph Pickett; and May 10, selected films and a general question and answer period.

The programs, designed for both men and women, will be informal lecture-discussion types.

Essene Will Give Final Lenten Talk

Dr. Frank J. Essene, head of the Department of Anthropology, will give the final speech of the Canterbury Lenten Lecture Series, at 6:30 p.m. Sunday.

The speech, "Alternative of Christianity," is the fourth lecture to be given in the series.

Previous lectures were "Existentialism," "Communism vs. Christianity," and "Mohammedanism vs. Christianity."

The lecture will be given in the Canterbury student center on Rose Street.

Fitz's Facts

By John Fitzwater

Coach Harry Lancaster may have a "pennant contender" in the Southeastern Conference this season.

Lancaster built the best baseball machine in the school's history last season and it held on to all chances until the final games. That team finished with an 18-8 mark.

Probably the biggest weakness on the 1960 edition of the Wildcats will be pitching.

The squad has 10 men listed as hurlers, but few have the experience to carry a big load on the mound. Three of the 10 are southpaws and the trio is made up of the top pitchers on the roster: Lonnie Haley, Bobby Newsome and Mike Howell.

The top righthander is Charlie Loyd but the remainder of the righties lack experience. These six, five sophomores and a junior, are Eddie Monroe, Joe Barber, John Dixon, Joe Sullivan, Bob Kittle and Ed Sellier.

The Cats seem to be strong at every other position with Bob Linkner, Lowell Hughes, Ray Ruehl, Dick Parsons, Mick Conner, Ken Beard, Allen Feldhaus, and Bob Bertsch in the starting roles and Bob Myers, Garnet Crask, and Bill Carder on the relief list.

This writer believes that Coach Lancaster and Coach Abe Shannon have a fine team and a chance for UK to finish in the money this year.

UK Signs Athletic Star In Football, Basketball

The athletic future of the University seems destined for a big boost with the inking of a scholarship pact yesterday by an Oklahoma dual sports star.

The 6-8, 295 pounder is B. I. Gspoo and hails from the oil fields of Oklahoma. He will be one of the few lads in the history of college sports to receive a grant-in-aid in both football and basketball.

B. I. rewrote all Oklahoma roundball record books during his spectacular three years at Foiday High School. He scored 6,750 points in his amazing career for an average of 75 points a game in 90 games.

His high was a stellar 141 points in the final tilt of the Oklahoma State Roundball Tourney.

His high school mentor said, "B. I. is not just a big boy who makes the easy tip or cram shot, but he is one of the best ball handlers I have ever seen."

UK's Sam Langfitt Finds Yacht Racing Is Old Hat

By DAVID BAUER

With the warm weather at hand now, many of the University students will be heading to the lakes on weekends for a little boatnig pleasure.

Many of them will find the experience unique, but one 21-year-old junior may be bored with it all.

Sam Biff Langfitt, a biological sciences major in the College of Arts and Sciences, is a yacht racer and spends most of his vacation periods on the Great Lakes following his hobby.

Sam comes from Vermillion, Ohio, near the lakes, and is a member of the International Star Class Yacht Racing Association.

Although he doesn't own his own boat yet, Sam plans to purchase one "as soon as the money is available."

For the past eight years, since he became interested in boating, he has worked on yachting crews and has borrowed boats to race in several classics.

In 1958, Sam placed second in the Deep Water Interlake Regatta, a 35-mile race. In that race he piloted a 22-footer. The following year, he was breezing along with a three-hour lead on competitors but was eliminated due to a rules technicality.

Langfitt says his biggest thrill was "the time I took third in the Brown's Trophy Race. It is one of the most highly respected races around the lakes."

He also raced in the Southshore Regatta last summer, but didn't place.

Sam recalls the Brown's Trophy meet and says it almost turned him against sailing. "We were on the return run, or in the stretch, and we were becalmed (no wind).

Athletic Star Signed Trackmen Vie In Ohio Meet

time for us and led the fast break almost everytime. His favorite shot is a 25-foot hook from either side, but he drives well, too."

B. I. went unnoticed for the first two years of prep school, but during his junior year he started receiving basketball offers. By the end of the past basketball campaign he had received 271 college scholarship offers.

In the pigskin sport, Gspool is a top notch man at either guard or tackle, but saw a lot of action in high school as an end and even quarterback. His senior season at Falday High he tried 50 heaves and completed 48 tosses from the signal-calling slot.

As a running quarterback he turned in another fine job. His average per carry was 14.7 yards per tote with the oil pigskin.

The head football tutor at Falday High said, "B. I. is unbelievable on the gridiron. He seems to know where the ball is going everytime when he is on defense. Only one touchdown was scored on us all season and B. I. was out that play."

"He is as fast as lightning. We timed him at 9.1 with full football equipment on last fall."

He is a straight "A" student and plans to major in physics with a minor in chemistry. He has also expressed a desire to take part in debating if time permits.

His real name is Benjamin Ischmal Gspool, but his friends prefer his initials—B. I. G.

Your friends here at UK say,

"Congrats and hats off to you, B. I. G."

B. I. GSPOOL

This unusual picture was made this fall of a very unusual lad—B. I. Gspool. The 6-8 boy is one of the greatest all-around athletes in the history of sports. Experts believe that B. I. is a better man on the cage floor than Jerry Lucas was in his high school days. He signed with UK yesterday.

Kentucky's varsity and freshmen track squads will journey to Athens for their first dual meet of the outdoor season against Ohio University this Saturday.

This will be the first meet of the year for the Kentucky frosh and will bring together one of the strongest yearling aggregations in UK history.

They will be led by Keith Locke, the West Virginia schoolboy mile champ from Huntington. Locke, tops in the UK freshman cross-country stable this fall, has traversed the mile in 4:29.3 in his high school days.

His running mate in cross-country, Allen Cleaver, former Kentucky high school mile king, suffered a broken foot this winter and may not be ready for this meet.

The UK varsity, fresh from a record setting triumph in the two-mile relay at the Florida Relays will be out to get revenge over an Ohio team that soundly defeated them last year.

In the distance from the 440 to the two-mile, UK will hold unchallengeable domination.

Buddy Gum, a 48.9 quarter-miler, will run the dashes in addition to the 440 and his leg of the mile relay. Gum ran a 1:51.9 half-mile leg in the record breaking relay at Florida.

Domination in the mile and half-mile will be present in the form of UK's famed distance duo, E. G. Plummer and Press Whelan.

In two different relay events last week, Whelan ran two blistering half-miles; one in the opening part of the two-mile relay in 1:54 flat and the other in the anchor leg of a heat in the sprint medley in 1:55.4.

Plummer, who will go in the half-mile and the mile against Ohio, ran the third leg of the record-setting relay in 1:57.3 last week.

Also running in the distance events will be John Baxter, Florida Relays fishing champ, who will run the two-mile along with teammate Dave Purdy.

Heading the sprints for the Cats will be pole vaulter Dave Franta. Franta, an all round performer, will see action in the dashes, hurdles, broad jump, and pole vault. He vaulted 13 feet 7 inches at Florida.

Cats Meet Tennessee Today On UK Diamond

Wildcat baseballers will start a busy weekend today with the first half of a two game series against Tennessee. The Cats stopped Eastern Wednesday afternoon in the season opener, 7-5.

Charlie Loyd, Lonnie Haley and Bobby Newsome are the most likely candidates for mound duty against the Volunteers. Mike Howell, who started the Wednesday tilt may get the call again Saturday if Coach Harry Lancaster decides the junior southpaw is ready.

This afternoon's game is slated to get underway at 4 p.m. and the weatherman says warm winds should be blowing over the Stoll Field diamond.

Monday the Kentucky squad will be in action once again with Centre College of Danville invading the campus.

Captain Bob Linkner will be behind the plate again today with Lowell Hughes at first base; Ray Ruehl at second; Dickie Parsons at shortstop; Mick Conner at third; and Ron Bertsch, Kenny Beard and Allen "Horse" Feldhaus roving the outfield.

Wednesday the Cats showed the signs of lack of outdoor practice, but also showed signs of fine potential.

With the pesky hitting of Ruehl, Parsons, Bertsch, and Beard, and the power of Linkner, Conner, Hughes, and Feldhaus, they could develop into a real Southeastern Conference contender.

ALLEN FELDHAUS

Allen "Horse" Feldhaus, second string catcher for the Wildcat baseballers, traded his catcher's equipment for an outfielder's glove Wednesday. Coach Harry Lancaster made the swap because of Feldhaus' batting ability.

We were on the lakes 13 hours before the winds picked up again."

This summer Sam plans to enter the Mackinac Race for the 36-foot cruising class. The race is set for mid-July and Sam plans to work during the six weeks preceding the race to better his times on the route.

Langfitt is devoted to all water sports. Last semester he stayed out of school and worked on Great Lake's freighters. When the steel strike interfered with freighter movement, Sam went south to Florida and tried his hand at skin diving.

He added that he hopes to make a few shallow dives in Herrington Lake when the water begins to warm.

Fire School Burns House

A McMullen Street house was burned at noon yesterday as part of a preparation program for the annual fire school training sessions to be held at UK June 6-8.

The statewide fire school teaching staff, consisting of 60 selected firemen from all over Kentucky, met at UK this week to coordinate plans and to improve teaching techniques in preparation for the sessions this June.

The staff was divided into four groups to find ways of efficiently training members of paid, volunteer, and industrial departments and to discuss the various tasks of firemen.

W. M. Baker, B. T. Fagen, and L. C. McDowell, UK staff members, have led the conference and training sessions throughout the week.

Dr. Lyman Ginger, dean of the College of Education, will present completion certificates today to those who successfully completed the work of the sessions.

The fire school to be held in June will be conducted through the efforts of the Vocational Department of the College of Education, the Kentucky Inspection Bureau, the Office of the State Fire Marshal, and all fire departments in the state.
